To All:

FYI - While some of these videos do not address OSHA's requirements, they are well done and could be used as part of your safety training. If the link at the bottom of the email does not work, use this link url <http://www2.worksafebc.com/Publications/Multimedia/Videos.asp?ReportID=34300>

WorkSafe Update Your source of information about workplace health & safety

Health and safety video downloads now free!

As you may know, viewing safety videos on the worksafebc website is free. Now all downloading of videos onto your computer or memory stick is free, too. (There used to be a small charge for some downloads.)

We made this change in response to customer requests and because more people will now have better access to information about safe work practices.
